

14 August 2017

Dear Professor Shen,

It is our pleasure to invite you to the 2017 International Macadamia Research Symposium in Hilo, Hawaii 12-15 September 2017. The purpose of this meeting is to share, learn and discuss the latest developments across the international macadamia research community. The last international macadamia research meeting was held here in 1992 (in Kona), but there have been many developments in macadamia research since then. We have planned for two days of symposium, including an afternoon field tour and a symposium dinner to encourage network building. We also have two additional days of tours to visit and learn about the local macadamia industry and research activities. I understand you will pay all your cost for the meeting.

For more information about the symposium and associated activities, please see the website: <http://www.macadamiaresearchsymposium2017.com>.

We look forward to your participation,

2017 International Macadamia Research Symposium Planning Committee
Craig Hardner, University of Queensland
Alyssa Cho, University of Hawaii at Manoa
Marisa Wall, USDA-ARS
Nathan Trump, Hawaii Macadamia Nut Association